Dear Detective Inspector,

We have eliminated Theo Daniels from our investigations. Our findings indicate that Theo cannot be "T.D." as described in Marjorie's diaries. According to the diaries, T.D. is the oldest of three brothers, but articles about an accident involving Theo as a child suggest that he has an older sister. Although Theo stated that he had not spoken to Marjorie, it is possible that they lost touch after performing together in a school play, as reported in a newspaper article. Furthermore, we have found no motive for Theo to have killed Marjorie. At the time of Theo's accident, Marjorie was too young to be held responsible, and if Theo or his family had sought revenge, it is more likely that they would have targeted Charles Millington, Marjorie's father.

Sincerely,

C Hopkins

Detective Sergeant Hopkins
